

Carlos Phillips Bio

Carlos joined the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce staff as Vice President of Membership and Marketing in January, 2010. He previously served as Vice-President for Member and Investor Development for Greater Louisville Inc., The Metro Chamber of Commerce (GLI) from 2006 - 2009. While at GLI, Carlos' team was responsible for member base and revenue growth, networking and business development programs, member benefits, publications and investor development. Greater Louisville Inc was awarded the 2007 "Chamber of the Year" honor by the American Chamber of Commerce Executives.

Carlos enjoyed a 13-year career with Cingular Wireless, where he held numerous sales and operations leadership positions in Louisville, Lexington, Birmingham and Atlanta markets.

He earned a BA in communication from the University of Kentucky, is a football letter winner and member of the UK Varsity Letter Association. He also earned a MA in organizational communication from Western Kentucky University.

Carlos is involved in many community activities including Junior Achievement of Kentuckiana, Goodwill Industries of Kentucky, Louisville Urban League Young Professionals, Leadership Louisville (Class of 2008), "The Cup Experience" Events Committee, University of Kentucky Alumni Association, and 100 Black Men of Louisville. An Owensboro, KY native, Carlos and his wife LaTonya have four children.